DENMARK

Small Attendance at Christmas Tree—
Learners Returned from Massachusetts
—Mrs. Ward III—Jack Wolff Mill.
The new Sargent plow arrived Tuesday. It makes a splendid road.
At the community tree program held at the Grange Hall on Tuesday evening, the two plays, "The Christmas Tree" and "The Shepherd's Boy" were put on by the children of the Sunday school. There were recitations and songs, also, which were well received by the public schools. The attendance was small, for many are ill.
Mrs. McCauley and Mrs. McIntyre spent Christmas Day at the home of the Wal-shes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. True and children spent Christmas at L. H. Ingalls'.
Mrs. Nellie Leeman and son, Wellington, arrived home Saturday night, after having spent several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Lee, in Medford, Mass.
Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey have named their baby, Maynard Kenneth.
Mrs. Mildred Ward is ill with typhoid fever. Her mother is caring for her.
Hazel is keeping house at Marion, Pauline and Charlie, Jr., Myrtle Sanborn and a nurse came, Sunday, to Mildred's.

Mrs. Carrie Berry left, Monday, for Portland, where she will be under the doctor's care this winter. Her eyes are very bad.
The schools opened on Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Pingree could not go to Massachusetts, where they had planned to spend Christmas, because of the storm.
Most of the school children have been ill this week, among them the Pingrees, Bovens, Trues, and Osgoods.
Several men are chopping pine at Hi-ran for C. E. Pingree and Eugene Richardson.
Cyrus Smith is cooking for Willard McKusick's crew of men, working at Cornish.
Jesse Kenison is ill.
Leon Jack is moving his mill to Fred Sanborn's field on Moose Pond. He will operate for the Diamond Match Co.

busy during the last days of December.
The taxes on two hundred and fifty cars
have all been paid.
There will be another white party at the I. O. O. F. hall, Saturday night, Jan.
4.

EAST FRYBURG

The Community Christmas dinner at the Grange hall was one of the finest ever. About thirty gathered around the tables, which were set in the main hall.
Several came in the afternoon and a general good time was enjoyed with cards
and music.
Millard Sanborn has begun logging on Walter Sanborn's. Frank Sanborn and Wiley Smith of Brownfield are cutting it.
He is hauling it to Wilton Warren's mill.
The regular Grange meeting was held Friday evening with big attendance. The next meeting will be for installation.
Mr. Emory of Poland has been here inspecting the roads, stopping at Henry Lord's.
School began for the winter, Monday,
Miss Chaplin of Naples, teacher.

A good disinfectant used occasionally in the poultry house not only destroys the germs of contagious diseases, but also many external parasites and some parasitic worm eggs. One of the best disinfectants for this purpose is cresol, one half pint in 8 quarts of soft water. A 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid also is good.

HARRISON

Dana M. Stuart Dead—Annual Meeting and Roll Call—Christmas Guests and Observances—Club Activities—Caswell-Whitney Marriage.

Dana M. Stuart passed away at his home on Haskell Hill, Saturday forenoon.
He was born December 21st, 1866, the son of Major P. and Octavia Weston Stuart.
He was a member of the Harrison Lodge
No. 1, O. O. F., and had been tax collector of the town for a number of years. He was a famous auctioneer and was well known all over the state as an auctioneer and dealer in antiques. His death is keenly felt by a large circle of friends. Besides his widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Lyman Shedd, of Bolster's Mills, and one brother, James W. of Melrose Heights, Mass., also two nieces. Funeral services were held at his late home, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Andrew Young spoke words of comfort and the burial was at Bolster's Mills in the family
lot.

A beautiful sight on Main Street during the Christmas season has been the illuminated Christmas tree on the lawn at Samuel L. Pitts' home. Every evening
this gorgeous affair has pleased the old and young.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Libby have closed their summer home on Hillsdale Avenue
and gone to their home in South Portland
for the winter months.
The Roll Call and annual meeting of the Calvary Community Church will be held on Monday, January 6th.
A fine operetta and Christmas tree were enjoyed on Christmas eve at Grange Hall with a large crowd present. The tree was well lighted. Friends and admirers of Rev. and Mrs. Young presented them with a sum of money, besides other nice gifts.

The Wyancong Literary Club met with Mrs. P. Blake for a Christmas party, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 19th. Music was enjoyed after which "The Rejuvenation of Father Christmas" was read by Mrs. F. Berly. From Mrs. Andrew Young read from Tennyson's "In Memoriam," a Christmas selection. There were Christmas decorations and refreshments were served, with Christmas favors.
The club meets this Thursday with Mrs.
Charles N. L. Walker at her farm. Dinner will be served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitney are visiting their daughter, in Naples.
Mr. and Mrs. William P. Smith entertained a jolly party at Whitst, Friday evening. The highest scores were won by Mrs. John Keene and Mrs. Edward Jackson.
Joseph Chaplin is ill at the home of his niece, Mrs. Ralph Wentworth, where he is staying this winter.
Mrs. William Seavey and sons, Harmon, and Harry Winslow, spent last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gordon, on Winslow Street.

Miss Josephine P. Ricker has gone to Brunswick, where she will spend the winter with her friend, Miss Charlotte Shover.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle (Bertha Powers) are on their way to St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will be employed at a large hotel for the winter. They plan to come to Harrison for the summer.
Allen Davis from Boston spent several days last week with Mrs. Davis, nee Mildred Martin, who is stopping with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Martin, for the winter.
Miss Hazel Burnham spent several days
last week in Boston and in Exeter, N.
H., where she visited her brother Moreau Burnham, and family. Mrs. Genevieve Burham assisted at the Me. Tel. & Tel. Co.
office.

Among the Harrison people home for the holidays were: Miss Ethel Whitney from Melrose Heights, Mass.; Miss C. Greenwood from New England Conservatory, Boston; Miss Helen Caswell from Bridgton; Lester Caswell from Kittery, Me.; Miss Ellen Harmon from Boston, Mass.; Lucille Martha E. Caswell from Malden, Mass.;
Arthur W. Libby from Portland; Lida H.
Carlsley from Portland; Miss Irene Libby
of Naples; Miss Cathleen Libby of No.
Harrison; Miss Lenora Edgewood of Rochester, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Boyker and daughter, of Poland.
Samuel L. Pitts is spending a few days
in New York, on business.
Mary Elizabeth Pitts is taking music lessons of Mrs. L. R. Rounds at Wat-terford.
Ruby B. Pitts spent several days last week with her friend, Rita McAllister, at East Stoneham.

Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Young and family were in Portland last week, where little Robert's arm, which she injured several weeks ago, was treated. It was found to be broken in the elbow and was set and is now in splints.
The Ladies' Aid of Calvary Community Church met at Elms Inn for their annual meeting and elected officers as follows:
Pres.—Mrs. C. Hartley Pitts.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Joseph Pitts.
Executive Committee—Mrs. Andrew Young,
Mrs. E. C. Jones, Mrs. Frank P. Benson,
Charlotte and Rachel Nevers of Somerville, Mass., are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nevers and attending Bridgton Academy.
Albert B. Caswell and Mrs. Josephine
M. Whitney of Harrison were married on Tuesday, Dec. 10th, at the home of the groom's brother, Melville M. Caswell, in Bridgton. Mr. and Mrs. Caswell have gone to California where they will spend the winter.

The village schools opened on Monday.
Charles DeWitt is ill at his home in South Harrison.

HARRISON—SCRIBNER'S MILLS

Grover Home for Week End—Days and Darlings Spent Christmas Together—Dadman Boarding at Day's.
Mrs. Villa Grover, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grover, all of Bolster's Mills were callers at William Day's, Sunday.
Roads are good around here, since the snow plow came through Saturday night, so cars are running again.
Herman Grover was home from South
Harrison over the week end. Mr. Grover is working at the mill there for the Dupont Company.
Mr. and Mrs. William Day and family,
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Darling and family, spent a very pleasant day together on Christmas day. At noon a nice dinner was served consisting of roast pork, duck and chicken, with all the fixings to go with these. In the evening all enjoyed the radio. The children were most pleased and delighted when they entered the living room where there were two Christmas trees very prettily decorated and loaded with presents for them all. A train of mixed nuts, assorted candies, pen-nits and fruit popcorn. Arlene and Lillian Darling and Doris Day received the three big dolls which Santa left on these trees. With dishes, doll houses and little trains, these little girls can keep house
O. K.
Mrs. Everett-Darling has been helping care for Gloria Day, who has been confined to her bed with the grippe and a bad foot, which does not heal.
Herbert Dadman of Stoneham is boarding at Will Day's. He and Mr. Day are working at Jughtown for Mr. Milliken, cutting timber.

On every occasion that leads the way to vacation apply this principle: That though this is a misfortune, to bear it nobly is good fortune.

KEZAR FALLS

Christmas Concert—Kiwanians Held First Anniversary—Students Home for Holiday—Pastor Gone to Illinois.

A very interesting concert was given Christmas evening in the Town Hall by the children of the Methodist Sunday School, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Carpenter, assisted by Ruth E. Garner and Arlene Watson. The children certainly reciprocated whatever time and effort had been spent in their behalf and had confidence not misplaced in their power to please their audience.

Sidney B. Shingley, one of our esteemed citizens and superintendent of the Sunday School, has been as a brother to Santa Claus and every year presents him with a beautiful tree on which to hang his many presents. Four ladies, viz Mrs.
Olin Banks, Mrs. Preston Stanley, Mrs.
Fred Whitton and Mrs. Ellwood Elliott had adorned the tree with tinsel or something that glittered and sparkled like unto its woodland mates in their icy coats of mail. Willing hands had assisted the ladies in placing the fruit of Santa's labors upon the tree. Once, some years ago, a little boy ran up to Santa and these are the words he said, looking confidingly into the good Santa's face.
"Don't you know me, Santa Claus? Don't you know me? Oh, don't you know me, Santa Claus?" Yes, Santa knew him and made his heart glad as he keeps on doing all his life.

The concert was over, all had done their parts well and at a signal from Santa, the packages, of all shapes and sizes, were taken from the tree and distributed amongst the audience in accordance with the names written on them. Mr.
and Mrs. Callaghan's names were called with the rest and everyone went home
contented and happy.

The schoolhouse on the Parsonsfield
side of the river was the scene of a business meeting at the time Carl Milliken was governor of the State. He was much liked by the townspeople and when the building was completed, it was called after him,
the Milliken school. His picture hangs on the wall of the large room that is called Milliken Hall. The teachers and scholars have taken pride in furnishing the room with necessary equipment for a crowd of people and the room has taken to itself
the name of Milliken Hall. The Kiwanians on the evening of December 30th held their first anniversary there, which is supposed to be an event of some importance.
For one thing, it was ladies night. The L. M. R. C. served the viands. Furthermore, the Rev. Cymril Hughes delivered the principal address.

Howard Luck of Hyde Park is visiting friends at Hotel Malvern.
Kezar Falls schools opened Dec. 30th,
after a two weeks vacation.
Carolyn Stanley, who is training for a nurse, at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, has returned, after a delightful visit at home. Her sister, Mildred, of the Eastern School of Music, has also been home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Elliott were privileged in having their three children home Christmas week. Mrs. Clark Fuller of Stewartstown, Herbert from Bar Harbor, and George, who thinks there is "no place like home."

The Merry Christmas, has passed and the Happy New Year is on its way.
Rev. Arthur Callaghan left Portland,
Sunday, on the six o'clock evening train for Evanston, Ill. A member of the Maine Conference, he fills two offices, chairman of the board of ministerial training and also chairman of Dean's summer school. His son, Winship, is studying to be a doctor, in the University of Indiana, and it will be very pleasant to see him before he returns home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McNeill were host and hostess to twenty-two guests, Christmas Day. Kith and kin with differing grades of consanguinity, ranging from the little children to the grandparents. They all enjoyed a Merry Christmas and were looking for a Happy New Year.

NORWAY VICINITY

Ice fishing received a set-back by the recent storm. Edgcomb and Foss at the power house have sold considerably over 1,000 shiners for bait and the end is not yet.

A Kistwick electric sawmill machine and vendor has been installed at the store of the A. L. Clark Drug Co. This machine will be operated in conjunction with a new electric soda fountain, both taking up the Greenleaf Avenue side of the pharmacy. These innovations are decidedly modern and familiar in the city, while small towns as a rule are not favored with this progressive service, except on a small scale.

GOOD ROADS

The Rumford Falls times says: "Official of the towns of Rumford and Mexico

as well as the surrounding towns, are to be congratulated on the way in which the roads have been handled as the result of the recent snowstorms. Starting with the heavy storms of the last week crews

from the highway departments of these towns lost no time in combating the elements so that the roads and streets were made passable and ready for use by the pedestrians and motorists.

Each year finds the situation handled better than before and this year those who have had occasion to use the roads for travel found travelling good while any delay being caused as the result of the deep snow.

"With roads being handled as they are now there is but little let up in travel and hundreds of motorists find use for their cars, the twelve months of the year.

What a change has come about in the last few years and what additional benefit has developed as the result of good winter going."

The foregoing applies equally as well to Norway and South Paris where the roads are being kept in fine shape for winter travel.

WELCHVILLE

Mrs. Fred Robinson, who was called to Brunswick by the illness of her sister, has returned home.

Will Yeaton, who has had an abscess in his throat, is on the gain.

Mrs. Horace Holmes has been spending a few days with her husband, who is working at Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morse of Norway spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Yeaton.

Miss Mabel Tenney of Oshfield is spending a few days at the home of James Walker.

Mrs. Florence Poland and son, Henry, of Pigeon Hill, spent Saturday afternoon with her aunt, Mrs. Will Yeaton, and family.

Mrs. Etta Staples, who has been at the Saint Mary's Hospital, is now at her son's, Edward Staples', in Lewiston.

Mrs. Lizzie Fritz, who has been working in Portland, has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Hanford, and family.

SOUTH OTISFIELD

Mrs. Jennie Poland is working for Mrs. Lottie Edwards, doing housework and caring for her.

Jim Nutting from Casco called Dec. 22 on Howard Ames.

Beatrice Edwards from Johnson Hill has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Velma Foster.

Fletcher Scribner has been packing apples for Forrest Edwards.

Al Edwards is boarding two men who work down on the Whitman lot.

Dan Winslow is poorly.

Robert Baker has been at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker.

Ten mills in New England operated by the American Woolen Co., will be closed between January 1 and the 15th and among them is the mill at Bridgton. These are among the smaller mills of the country. No date for reopening has been set, dependent upon orders.

As a people we are thrilled by motion and supremely bored by reflection.

Bear Mt. Grange met for its last meeting for the year, Saturday, Dec. 28, at 1:30 p. m. It was voted to accept an invitation from North Waterford Grange to meet with them Saturday, January 11, for a joint installation. Bound Mt. Grange from Albany will also be present. It is hoped that many can go from this Grange.

Mrs. Merton Kimball visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Savin, one day last week.

LOVELL

Kezar Valley Settlement

The recent storm did much damage in Lovell as well as elsewhere. The trees were bent over the roads and made regular overhead bridges. It broke many trees so they had to be chopped down.

Albert Flinn has been chopping work here and has returned to Bethel.

Miss Bertha Kimball was home for the Christmas vacation.

Archie Kimball, Della Waterhouse and Josephine Sanderson were in Lewiston, shopping, recently.

Miss Minnie Gupitt is spending the holidays with her parents, James Gupitt and wife.

Winfield Brown was in Boston for a few days. His wife returned with him. Stanley Lord spent the week end, recently, with his sister, Mrs. Henry Sanderson.

Lewis Pike of Waterford called on his sister, Mrs. Charles Kimball, Sunday, Dec. 28.

The snow plows have been in here since the storm, and camp teams have scraped the snow between the lines to meet both plows, so there is a good road to Lovell.

Floyd, Raymond and Walter went to Lovell, Friday, Dec. 27.

Henry Sanderson went after grain one day, recently.

There was a big Christmas tree for the settlement. It was enjoyed by all with jokes for all.

Bertha Kimball and Mrs. Sanderson went to Portland, Monday, Dec. 23, with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Waterhouse moved to Locke Mills, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Pike moved into the Waterhouse camp.

LYNCHVILLE

Perley Adams and Otis Cobb are getting their ice.

Ed. Hobson got a nice string of pickered, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Doughty of Stoneham spent the evening at Perley Adams', Sunday.

Mrs. Otis Cobb and Irene Adams went to Newry, Monday, with Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Wentworth.

Charles and Leon Stearns of Norway called at Perley Adams', Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cobb visited Mr. Cobb's mother, Mrs. Mary Cobb, of Norway, Sunday, Dec. 22.

Minnie McKee and Minnie Gupitt visited Miss McKee's brother, Fred, Sunday, Dec. 29.

MAINE'S SHARE FOR HIGHWAYS

Maine will receive $675,106 of her share of $73,125,000 authorized by Congress for federal aid for road construction in the fiscal year 1931. Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde has announced in compliance with President Hoover's suggestion that public building and road work be promoted to business and prevent unemployment.

Allocated on a basis of area, population and mileage of post roads, Texas will receive the largest share, $4,545,930. Only 10 states will receive less than Maine, four of them also being New England states.

Funds allocated to New England states follow: Connecticut, $477,993; Rhode Island, $398,625; Massachusetts, $1,090,023; New Hampshire, $365,625; Vermont, $365,625; Maine, $675,106.

NOTICE OF CHANGE

The business arrangement hitherto existing between the two last offices of the undersigned is on the first day of January, 1930, by mutual consent, dissolved.

Tellis F. Thibodeau
After an illness of about three years, Tellis F. Thibodeau died at his home, 20 Hillside Avenue, South Paris, about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, Dec. 31.
He was the son of Tellis and Mary Salway Thibodeau and born in Barnston, P. Q., Canada. For a number of years he resided in Norway and had employment in the B. P. Spinner & Co. shoe factory. Twenty-nine years ago he moved to a farm on the Buckfield road in South Paris. Later he sold the place and bought his late home in the village, and worked at the Paris Manufacturing Co. It was while employed there that he had a bad spell and was removed to his home. Since that sudden illness he failed, and was confined to the house much of the time. He attended the Methodist Church.
His wife survives him as the only immediate relative.

The funeral was held at his late home Thursday at 2 p. m., attended by Rev. D. P. Faulkner of Gorham, formerly pastor of Doying Memorial Church. Burial at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery.

Former Abjick Hall Place Burned
The O. K. Clifford buildings on Oxford street, corner Highland Avenue were badly damaged by fire, Sunday forenoon. The stable and barn were entirely consumed and the main house of two stories suffered heavily, with a portion of the roof burned off and much of one end gone.

Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Ridley occupied the premises and were attending services at the Methodist church when the fire was discovered by Irving Andrews about thirty minutes after the hour of midnight. Part of the furnishings were removed from the main building, goods on the second floor being taken out through windows over the piazza. There was no insurance on the contents of the house, but the buildings carried protection.

Apparently the fire started in the shed of the oil and traveled both ways, and gained considerable headway before the fire department reached the place.

Section Foreman Retires
John Simpson retired, Jan. 1, as foreman of the Grand Trunk Railroad section at South Paris, after forty years of service. He has reached the age limit of 65 which is the time set for retirement.

Mr. Simpson started railroading as section hand in Shelburne, N. H., then was baggage master and switchman. For a time he had employment in the road master's office at Gorham, N. H., but returned to the construction crew and was given a section at the age of 34.

Thirty-one years ago he was transferred to the "lower section" in South Paris as foreman. Four years ago one crew was taken off and since then he has had full charge of the line between West Paris and Oxford sections, including Norway Branch.

It is understood that Byron Leach of South Paris and foreman at Oxford for four years, will return to fill the vacancy. According to reports, Allen Cole of Gorham, N. H., will take Mr. Leach's place at Oxford.

Albert G. Harris spent Christmas with a relative in Brunswick.
Mr. and Mrs. Rinaldo Wiggins of Sanguis, Mass., were here for the holiday. Mr. Wiggins remained for the week.
The old whistle at the Paris Manufacturing Co. factory has been removed and restored to its place among sound makers in the community. The new chime whistle failed to make good.

Fifteen young people were entertained by Earl Brown at his home on Pine street, Saturday night. A buffet supper was served. Cards and dancing to radio music occupied the time.

Henry W. Morris was home from Crystal, N. H., for the holiday.
Miss Grace Colby of Natick, Mass., has been visiting her brother, Rev. R. H. Colby and family.

Miss Catherine Chapman, R. N. of Boston and Miss Miriam Chapman of Winsted, Conn., spent Christmas week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Chapman. For the holiday, winter party besides the immediate family were Mrs. Ada Bolster, Morton V. Bolster and Miss Ruth Bolster.

Clarence Winslow has been spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Winslow and sister, Mrs. Gordon Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Dudley had a party of twelve on Christmas Day. Besides the family there were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. James Mason and daughter, Jean, and Donald Hodgdon.

A Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Millard was attended by Arthur B. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Talbot and children and Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Clifford.

Saco Valley United Parish

Christmas was particularly happy this year in that every point in the parish shared in presenting gifts for poorer folks, and as a result of this our less fortunate people were remembered and also several parcels of clothing and toys sent to the Italian Mission, Portland, and to the Home for Little Wanderers, Boston.

The Lovell Sunday School tree was held on Christmas eve and prior to the descent of Santa Claus from the attic of the church, the boys and girls presented a fine program of recitations and songs. The Toll Bridge school also shared in the evening and sang very beautifully several Christmas carols. After gifts had been distributed all the children, the teachers and the pastors grouped around the Kiwanis Christmas tree in the middle of the village street and sang carols.

Through the generosity of the Fryburg-Lovell Kiwanis Club and a couple of friends of the parish, every boy and girl and baby, as far as possible, was given a box of candy and an apple for Christmas. To say that they were appreciated is to put it very mildly.

With the mumps epidemic about spent, the Harbor Edwirth League and congregation held a New Year's eve celebration with games and stunts, supper and a watch night service.

Judge Pike of Bridgton is expected to be the guest speaker at the New Year's meeting of the Harbor Men's Club next Friday. All men are expected to attend. Supper at 6:30, followed by sing-song, singing and speeches.

Instead of holding the Council meeting of the Saco Valley United Parish on New Year's Day, the meeting was postponed to next Wednesday, Jan. 9th, at North's Presbyterian library. It is expected that the eight points in the parish will send representatives.

The Union Hill Church, twice postponed on account of storms was held on Monday, the picture, "A Modern Good Samaritan" was shown and aroused much interest. After a couple of hours the young folks were loth to go home, so they must have had a good time.

The Lovell Congregational Parish met at the home of James Hargrove, Jr., Thursday for the annual meeting. It was decided to make use of the library for services during cold weather.

SOUTH HARRISON
Will Lewis III—Jordans Moved Home—Pupils Home for Holidays.

Mrs. J. M. Jordan has returned home after spending a week in Portland. Her daughter, Melva, spent Christmas at the Seavey Farm with her.

Will Lewis is ill at his home; Stanley Adams has been there a few days. Dan Chaplin helps out doing repairs, etc.

Mel Jordan has been sick at the Seavey Farm. As he is unable to work they have moved back to their home here.

The school has been in session for a week. Frederick and Mary Flagg from Oxford high school, Celeste Mellow, Kenneth Clute, Mary and William Roberts, Ruth Johnson, Irene Harju from North Bridgton.

Miss Zerah Merrow spent Christmas day with her parents.
Dec. 24, to get his sister, Paul, who came to spend Christmas with her parents.

Mrs. Frank Potts and two children of Bridgton have recently visited her grand-aunt, Mrs. Warren Flagg, who is now in the hospital at the Seavey Farm.

SUMMER

In my items of last weeks issue I read that Mrs. Alfred Morrell and son, Junior, visited the closing exercises of the Marshall school, and at this time I wish to rectify this little mistake in saying that this brilliant little youngster attended those exercises with his mother, Mrs. Ophelia Varney, and to the Home for Little Wanderers, Boston.

While quoting last Monday morning that P. V. Redding was considering running for school, and was a skeptical one, as well as the future weather forecast through a costly radio. We had not seen P. V. go by at that time, though about an hour later after I had sent my stuff to press and possibly those lines were running down the linotype spout, as I was setting at the Underwood doing a little work for another paper, I happened to glance out of the window and sure enough Percy was going by at a good rate of speed in his Red speed wagon.

Percey was smoking a cigarette, and carefully taking in the beautiful scenery which was Grandview route is famous. Now I do not wish to insinuate that our popular store keeper hibernates through Maine's long cold winters, for cold is not the case, as the same time when it gets so that the stone walls along the roads are not visible, look out, for Percy experienced a six mile walk over this same trail last winter.

Monday the 23rd, after a Monday, Charlie Farrar went to Weld with four horses to work in the woods for Mike Marshall. Charlie will drive one pair of horses.

Saturday, the 21st, Irving Bartlett left Bridgton, R. I., going to Providence by bus, from there to Boston by train, across Boston to Somerville by elevated railway, where he stayed over Sunday, with his mother, Mrs. Clarence Mears at 52 Highland Avenue, where he enjoyed riding around the city in Mr. Mears' Studebaker sedan and the next morning, going to Boston by train, he connected with the train for the good old state of Maine, where his mother met him at East Summer with horse and sleigh.

Thinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Emerson's Christmas day, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell and sons, Emerson, Robert and George.

Emerson and Lionel Bartlett spent Saturday evening, the 25th, at Linn Farrar's place, where they enjoyed a pleasant conversation along the lines of hunting and sporting magazines. Noted hunters from many localities including Wild Cat Lynch.

And by the way, Mr. Farrar and that fur buyer, Linn Redding, who is stopping with Linn this winter, are born hunters and both follow their profession and early that Saturday morning before we called in the evening, left the house, accompanied by two more hunting companions, Arthur Childs and Ophelia Varney.

The day was young when the pack hit a warm foot and began to do business in a large swampy holding there for two hours, and out of there to another swamp about two miles away till the hunters got to sitting pretty and they made an early move across country for about four miles this time. Of course the boys had a spirited team far away to cross country with and a good thing they did for they said they never saw a fox play so well the whole day and not stay in the open until the hunters were within a few hundred yards of them.

Well, the old red kept going all day and at dusk a comfortable and jumped aboard their way, tired, hungry, several miles from home, and not even one of the party got a shot at the old ranger. Just as we were starting to leave, Linn said, "I want you to see my foxes in the bag," and before we got to the leanto where the calves were, Linn's pack of hounds, seven of them, came running from the far end of the bag and all blooded stock too.

Linn opened the door to the herd and we looked at a large herd of small stock mostly calves and yearlings. Linn said, "I pay me better to have them growing up, than to be growing down." There were three yokes of calves from three months old to a year, one yoke of Red Durbans, one of Jean Durhams and one of Herefords, while the remainder of the tieup was filled with younger calves, a bull, some fresh milkers, some dry stock and so on.

If Linn should keep those steer calves he would soon have a town team of his own, but a week may pass when he might not have any of them. We said good night and left Linn so that he could retire and perhaps dream over the long day's chase after the red fellow.

Sunday, the 29th, Linn Farrar moved a load of furniture for Alfred Morrill up to the Boose camp, where a truck met them and took the load to Weld.

An expensive outlay is not necessary for fattening beef calves. A small, well-fenced lot, a shed open on the south, with a good roof, feed troughs or bunks, hay-racks and a trough or tank for water are practically all that is required. Twenty square feet of floor space per calf is adequate for shelter, while two or three times as much lot space is usually needed.

If the lot is likely to become muddy, it should be paved or roofed over unless an abundance of bedding can be put down cheaply to keep the calves dry and clean and to save liquid manure. They should have a dry bed at night and in the North protection from cold winds and snow.

NO. WATERFORD—ALBANY LINE

Christmas Party at Walter Lord's—Callers at Shedd's.
Harold Nutting has housed his auto for the winter in E. K. Shedd's garage. Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shedd attended the Christmas tree at her son's, Walter Lord's, Christmas day. There were thirty-one present. A fine lot of valuable and useful presents were on the beautiful tree. A splendid dinner was served by the hostess, Mrs. Lord, consisting of meats and poultry of all kinds and oyster stew. Frank Pike brought the oysters from his meat store at North Conway, N. H. Mr. Lord's children were all there, but one, Fayle Lord, who went to Lewiston with her grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Bickford, to spend the day with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rice.

B. J. Flint is caring for George Stevens' horses while Mr. Stevens goes back home nights. He is working for Will Chadbourne. Mr. Flint also has been boarding one man who works in the woods.

Sunday callers at E. K. Shedd's were Lee Lord and Crystal Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jones, Annie Imman and daughter, Jean, Dell Churchill, Hugh Little and Harold Nutting.

Wallace Jones sold a heifer to Charles Hersey last week and Mr. Hersey sold it to E. K. Shedd.

Monday, the 23rd, after a Monday, the skillful nursing of Mrs. Jesse Adams of Stoneham.

Lee Lord has housed his auto at his father's, Walter Lord's.

Mrs. and Mr. J. K. Shedd received a very nice box of candy from their old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Fuller, now in Cape Elizabeth. Also some fine fruit from her daughter, June Penfold, direct from the south, sent by her son-in-law, Erwin Cummings, who is fruit inspector there.

B. J. Flint is again helping Wm. Fliske out his winter's wood.

Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., will work the initiatory degree Tuesday evening, Jan. 14, on the evening they will hold Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Beryl Andrews entertained the clerks of the Z. L. Merchant store at her home last Thursday night at a dinner. Later in the evening they attended the "Fiddlers" at Rex Theatre.

Janette, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Witham, who has been so ill the past few weeks, is gaining rapidly and is able to be up and dressed.

Walter E. Jones, Optometrist, was in Portland, Wednesday and Thursday, attending the annual meeting of the Association of the Maine Association of Optometrists.

Next week we will publish a letter from Mrs. Alfred J. Dyer, containing notes taken on her recent trip to England, France, etc., while on her visit to her old home.

Bertrand G. McIntire, district governor of the Kiwanis, attended the annual meeting of the Kiwanis at Portland last Tuesday.

Major Edward E. Philbrook of Portland, who died Saturday, was former New England Kiwanis Governor and a frequent visitor and speaker at the Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club.

Howard P. Jewell has finished a two day one-day course in insurance as solicitor for the Metropolitan Insurance Co. and is employed in the same capacity for J. A. McCreedy, General Insurance.

The Browning Reading Club will hold a social evening and banquet at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Florence Pike, Main street, Monday evening, Jan. 13. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Aretta Morgan and Mrs. Alice E. Fure.

Unusually mild weather Tuesday and Wednesday brought the January thaw, so called. Snow has settled to a depth of eight or ten inches and icy roads everywhere mean caution on every hand. Sand helps the pedestrian, but the autoist skids and guesses.

Guy Merrill of Rumford is assisting William Palmer, local manager of the Maine Telephone & Telegraph Co., to relock the telephone lines in town. When the work is accomplished, subscribers will be arranged into geographical groups to speed up the service. Probably some changes will be made in phone numbers under the new plan.

Nature Club

January Meeting Held with Mrs. F. E. Decester, Monday Evening
The Twin-Town Nature Club held its first meeting of 1930 at Mrs. F. E. Decester's, Monday evening, Dec. 30. The roll was New Year's sentiments. About twenty-five were present. It was voted as usual to give the South Paris and the Norway high school each the Green Book for this year. Games were proposed by the hostess and entered into with zest. Refreshments were served and everyone went home happy.

Miss Edna Loring gave a talk on Lake Mohonk. One of the garden spots of eastern United States, comprising 5,000 acres with sixty-five miles of lovely carriage road. This place was founded sixty years ago by two Maine boys, who were born in 1825 in Vassalboro. Albert K. and Alfred Smiley, became well known educators. Albert was four years professor of Haverford College, four years head of a seminary and his brother established, twenty years head of a school in Providence, thirty years trustee of Bryn Mawr College, Brown University and Pomona College, California.

The Smileys have always been humanitarians, working for arbitration, prohibition, out-lawing of war, and justice to our North American Indians long before these problems were popular. As early as 1883 he held conferences and called together men and women who were interested in the Indians. In 1895 Mr. Smiley invited fifty people of note from all over the United States to come together and discuss practical means for substituting arbitration for war. Mohonk has become sort of a shrine, morally embellished and fearless to thy foe.

The name Smiley is known from coast to coast and over the seas. Thus did two Maine boys on a farm far from a crowded years ago, become educators and humanitarians-at-large.

EXPECT TO CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. John P. Penley, Paris street, expect to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary on January 17. An extensive program is not planned, but their home will be open to receive callers who may wish to extend congratulations.

Mr. Penley is in his 77th year and well known as a dealer in cattle, having been more or less connected with the business practically all his life. He has farmed successfully for over twenty years as a stone mason as a side line. Mr. Penley was born on the Joseph G. Penley farm on Crockett Ridge, Norway, later known as the Dismore farm, but most of his life has been lived in Paris, where he married Miss Nellie O. Bumpus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Bumpus. For more than fifteen years they owned and carried on the Geo. F. Whitney farm, so-called, at East Oxford until ten years in June, when they purchased the stand on Paris street, corner Winter street.

Mr. and Mrs. Penley enjoy good health and if nothing unforeseen prevents will greet friends on the happy anniversary.
